

Have you got

$4.00

Understand me, now . . . I didn't say:
"Have you got $4.00 that you can spare?"

What I did say was: "Have you got $4.00?"

You have? Then let's go on.

You are living at home, I take it . . .
with your family . . . in your own home
. . . with plenty to eat . . . sleeping warm
o' nights . . . and with a job and a salary.

And you have $4.00.

And the war interests you. You wake early mornings to see how many more Huns Pershing's boys have taken. Unless you are a rare being, you talk war whenever you meet more than one acquaintance
at a time.

You thrill when you read the boys'
letters home . . . and how this corporal took a machine gun all by himself.
And haven't you said to yourself . . . or maybe to a friend in uniform . . . "if it wasn't for my dependents, I'd go!"

And you have $4.00 . . . and—

But what I want to know is—how you can keep that $4.00 you have? Bought Bonds? Of course, you have . . . but you've got $4.00, haven't you? And you'll have another $2.00 every week, won't you? And you can smother some little selfish, foolish, useless indulgence and SAVE that $2.00 toward ONE MORE BOND, can't you?

You with your $4.00, and the rest of us here at home, would be the first to roar if some of the boys in the front line said:
"We're tired; we're going back for a month's rest." But you're the last to push yourselves.

Americans, are you? Prove it! Buy one more bond and show the world
whether you can not only stand punishment but inflict it on yourselves.

This is the way that anybody
with $4.00 can help
Win the War
